The Society of Construction Law Annual Conference 2017

INTRODUCTION

The Society of Construction Law Conference is an annual industry event developed with Leeds Beckett University, which is attended every year by Construction Lawyers, Surveyors, Claims Consultants, Project Managers and other construction professionals involved in the construction industry.

Some of the leading figures in the industry will provide a helpful review of recent developments in construction law and resolving claims from different perspectives.

Since its foundation in 1983, the Society of Construction Law has worked to promote for the public benefit, education, study and research in the field of construction law and related subjects (including ADR, arbitration and adjudication), both in the UK and overseas. The Society of Construction Law now has over 2500 members from all sectors of the construction industry.

10.10 MT Højgaard v E.ON

Supply of goods meets supply of services – where next? The Supreme Court is shortly going to look at this question against the background of a bespoke contract for the supply and installation of offshore wind turbines. The relationship between the obligations of satisfactory quality and fitness for purpose against obligations of skill and care as reflected in the Supply of Goods and Services Act 1982 has been considered by the Court of Appeal but not yet the Supreme Court. This talk will look at some of the important issues involved.

Chantal-Aimee Doerries QC and Lucie Briggs, Atkin Chambers
